

Introducing new reporter Lynne Locke

Lynne Locke, 27, a former high school journalism teacher, is the new reporter for "The Montclair Tribune," "The Upland News" and "The Cucamonga Times," weekly newspapers published by the Don Rey Media Group.

Mrs. Locke has three years' teaching experience at Hueneme High School, Oxnard, where she sponsored the high school newspaper, and experience as a proof reader with "The Press-Courier," a daily newspaper in Oxnard.

Lynne Locke

Mrs. Locke has two objectives she will try to achieve while reporting for the weeklies: to get to know the communities in depth and to present a balanced view of what's happening in the communities.

"Weeklies have a unique position in covering features and issues of particular interest to the local community that dailies can't cover because of the pressure of time," said.

"Another advantage of a weekly is that it's a smaller operation and so it's more personal. . . . The weeklies are important because they focus on the interests of the people in the specific community rather than presenting a shallow coverage of the entire area."

Mrs. Locke was born in Kirkland, Washington. Her family moved to Los Angeles when she was 3.

She attended Westchester High School, Los Angeles and the University of California at Santa Barbara, where she received a bachelor of arts degree in English and her secondary teaching credential.

She married Russ Locke, now attending the School of Theology, Claremont, in 1967. They live in Pomona.

Mrs. Locke describes her personality as "aggressive," because "that's the way other people describe me" and because "I say what I think."

"To a certain extent I'm a perfectionist in always wanting to do a good job," she said. "I'm interested in just about everything, including local history, photography and creative arts."

As a hobby, she draws charts of the family relationships between the royal families of Europe between 1100 and the present.

"I'm constantly trying to fill in gaps (in the charts) and that involves searching through history books and biographies."

The study started to be an interesting hobby, she said, but developed into an "obsession."

Mrs. Locke said reporting is an "exciting job" because of the variety of "events to cover and people to meet."

"I don't like the heat and the smog but I'm really excited by the number of interesting things going on in the area."

"I hope that individuals and groups active in the communities will keep me informed of their activities. I can do an effective job only with the help of the community members."

Mrs. Locke can be contacted for club news, picture appointments, publicity releases and community news reporting Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in her office, 886 W. Foothill Blvd., Upland, telephone 985-3515. If she is on assignment, contact the Ontario central office, 626-2465.

Five week ski program starts

A five-week "Get Fit To Ski" class starts today at the West End Y, 215 W. C St., Ontario. The class will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 p.m. for ski films and exercises.

There will also be tests for stamina and recovery rate and practice on simulated slalom and jumping courses.

Special class rates are available for groups of 10 or more people. For information or registration call 986-5847.

Artist Jeri Strew notes 'turquoise fever'

By LYNNE LOCKE

An Upland artist who calls herself a "pioneer" in organic Indian jewelry uses real leaves, lizards and turtles. Jeri Strew, an Upland mobile-home park manager, said the normal method of making jewelry is to carve an object in wax and then make a mold and cast it.

But for organic jewelry, she makes a mold of the actual object for natural details. "Every kid in the park brings things home to me," she said. When the grasshopper, lizard or snake dies, Mrs. Strew keeps it in her freezer until she's ready to use it.

Mrs. Strew is looking forward to making a piece of jewelry using a small octopus. She has to decide which stone to use the octopus with before she can cast it because the tenacles must be arranged to fit.

Another unusual characteristic of her work is the use of textured surfaces. Mrs. Strew first saw textured surfaces used in designing tools when she worked as a technical illustrator. She transferred the technique to jewelry making. The patterns she uses range from fine textures for delicate jewelry to coarser textures for larger pieces.

Mrs. Strew tries to never make the same thing twice. Even when she uses the same mold, the finished piece is worked into something different.

Indian jewelry is an expensive casual jewelry. It is out of place at a formal affair, Mrs. Strew commented. Otherwise, it is more universal than most jewelry.

Her husband and both sons wear Indian bracelets, necklaces and rings. In fact, her younger son Shane makes his own. She said he isn't patient enough yet to make top-quality jewelry, but he's proud to wear his own pieces to school.

The popularity of Indian jewelry is limited mostly to the Southwest. People back East consider Indian jewelry "gaudy junk" and think anything that big must be lead and plastic, she commented.

But in the Southwest, turquoise is a "fever," she said, noting that the January 1974 issue of "Arizona Highways" magazine is selling for $18 in Phoenix and the August 1974 issue for $6. Both issues feature Indian jewelry.

Turquoise is so expensive now that good stones even wholesale are almost priceless. Mrs. Strew said her prices are about halfway between wholesale and retail — $20-50 for a ring and $50-300 for a bracelet.

The whole process of making jewelry is quite involved and takes a long time, she noted. A ring takes about four hours over a period of 3-4 days. Her prize piece — a large squash-blossom necklace she gave her husband last Christmas — took a total of 60 hours to make.

The "lost wax" process involves carving the object in wax or using real objects as Mrs. Strew does. Wax molds are made so the jewelry can be duplicated without repeating the carving process.

Mrs. Strew uses an electric spatula to remove rough edges and carves fine detail with a hot knife or dental tools. Then she covers the wax mold with plaster to make a cast. This is baked in a 1250-degree kiln to burn out the wax. Melted silver is poured into the impression left in the plaster.

The plaster comes off in hot water leaving only the cast silver jewelry. After the metal is cleaned and polished, the stone is mounted and the jewelry is ready for the owner.

Mrs. Strew also does her own lapidary work. She uses diamond saws to slice the rock and then cut the slice to the proper size. After grinding the rock top into a smooth surface, she fills any soft spots on the face of the stone.

Mrs. Strew became interested in lapidary during an attempt to answer questions about rocks her son had picked up on a trip through the U.S. She decided to take an adult education lapidary class and ended up in a "lost wax" casting class where she learned to make jewelry.

Her collection has won several ribbons and has been displayed in many public libraries.

Junior Women suggest that adults give trick-or-treaters coupons instead of candy this year. Books of five-cent coupons can be purchased at local 7-11 stores. Children can trade their coupons for candy at any 7-11 store.

Other hints for a safe Halloween include cautioning children on safety, encouraging children to trick-or-treat in groups and checking all treats before children eat them.

Upland ok's retirement pact change

Two resolutions relating to contract amendments between the city of Upland and the Public Employees Retirement System (PERS) have been adopted by the Upland City Council.

Both resolutions indicate an intent on the city's part to amend contracts to increase benefits by 5 per cent to those who retired from the city on or before June 30, 1971.

The increase will also apply to beneficiaries of deceased employees.

PERS estimates that a contract amendment hiking benefits by 5 per cent for employees who retired before Dec. 31, 1970, will cost the city about $45,000 over a 10-year period.

The figure given the city for employees who retired on or after Jan. 1, 1971, but before July 1, 1971, is a $500 lump sum.

Montclair to start project

A meeting to organize a Meals on Wheels in Montclair will be held Monday, Nov. 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, 5150 Palo Verde St., Montclair.

The Soroptimist International Club of Montclair is behind the promotion of Meals on Wheels in the Montclair community, and heading the session will be Alice Philbrick, chairman of community services for the club.

All interested persons and representatives of other clubs and organizations are invited to attend.

"This service is provided to someone who is unable to do for himself by virtue of age, hospitalization, catastrophic illness and many other reasons," Mrs. Philbrick said. "People are often treated for senility when, in reality they are suffering from malnutrition."

Ruth Wallis, vice president of the Pomona Meals on Wheels, will be the major speaker. Volunteers, recipients, deliver and preparation of meals will be discussed.

A spokesman for the group said, "This project fills a humanitarian need in our city. It is a big job and will require participation from every organization."

Chris Della Penna, president; and Tom Eichenberg, treasurer. The officers' first goal is to raise money to sponsor a class dance or class trip.

Montclair works on annual report

The City of Montclair has started to compile its annual report required by the state government.

The facts and figures available to the city have been included by Montclair planning commissioners, who will fill in other data at their next meeting on Oct. 29.

Montclair, with a population of 23,577, belongs to the Southern California Association of Governments, the San Bernardino Association of Governments and the Valley Association of Cities.

The principal geographic features of the city are described as valley and desert and area. The Office of Planning and Research for the city has included the fact that over 15 per cent of the city's residents work outside San Bernardino County.

Three major planning issues affecting the city during 1973 and '74 must be filled in by the planning commission.

There are three professional planners in the city and 15 per cent of the planning department work is contracted to private consultants.

The contracted work includes advisory service for the preparation of upgraded housing, open space and conservation elements, said planners.

The city does not have a separate long range planning division, a separate environmental planning division, a separate urban design planning division, a separate housing planning division or a separate social planning division.

The city does have an integrated community development department, however, according to the report, and is broken down into planning, building and facilities maintenance.

Describing the city's decision-making process, the report states that the director of community development is the chief planner and reports to the city administrator and serves in an advisory capacity to the planning commission, community action committee and city council.

All responsibilities in the city fall under the authority of the city administrator, the public works director, the police chief, fire chief, assistant city administrator or community development director.

Student officer to take part in youth program

Karl Ketner, senior president at Alta Loma High School, has been selected to represent his school in the United States Senate Youth Program. The program is sponsored by the William Randolph Hearst Foundation in conjunction with the State Department of Education.

Decompression method will kill unwanted pets

Upland will soon have a new means of killing unwanted animals at its animal shelter.

The Upland City Council approved Tuesday the acquisition of a decompression device for the shelter.

Because local veterinarians are no longer able to provide the city with the drugs to put animals to sleep, the city had to find an alternate method.

City Manager Lee Travers recommended the decompression chamber over the use of carbon monoxide, calling it "more humane."

Both types of chambers are approved by the American Humane Association.

The chamber will cost the city $4,723 in addition to the cost of the 220-volt circuit at the shelter.

He was authorized to make the purchase Tuesday. The new chamber is not expected to be delivered to the city for three months, but will be installed upon receipt.

Decompression, according to Upland veterinarian Dr.

Kenneth Wilcox, "takes animals to a high altitude by air evacuation, they become euphoric and just go to sleep."

Donald R. Hardy appointed to board

Keith Anderson, president of the board of directors of West End Boys' Clubs, has announced the appointment of Donald R. Hardy to the Board.

Hardy is division manager for the Prudential Insurance Company of America with offices in Claremont. He lives with his wife, Becky in Alta Loma. They have two children. He also is on the board of Diversified Industries, is a member of Alta Loma - Cucamonga Kiwanis and National Association of Pomona Valley Life Underwriters.

Hardy's appointment to the West End Boys' Club is part of a reorganizational program which will establish advisory boards for each of the Boys' Club Branches in Upland, Ontario and Cucamonga. Hardy will serve with the Cucamonga Branch board for a three-year term as well as hold membership on the general board.

Retarded children stamp produced

Mat Castellaw, president of the Ontario-Pomona Association for Retarded Citizens (OPARC) in Montclair, was among the first in line to purchase the new "Retarded Children Can Be Helped" postage stamps issued Monday.

Castellaw views the issuance of the stamp as a milestone for the six million mentally retarded citizens in this country. In 1973, the concept of the stamp was approved by the Citizens Stamp Advisory Committee and Paul Calle of Stamford, Conn., was commissioned to create the art work. Calle also designed the first "Space Walk" stamp of 1967, the first "Man on the Moon Commemorative" and the "Robert Frost Commemorative of 1974."

'Why Vote' topic of discussion

Three Pomona Valley mayors will appear on an open forum panel to discuss "Why Vote?" The event will be held in the common room at Casa Colina, 255 E. Bonita Ave., Pomona, on Nov. 1 at 7:30 p.m. The YWCA of Greater Pomona Valley has scheduled an evening of presentations, responses and discussions.

Mayor Raymond Lepore of Pomona, Mayor Bertie Smith of Claremont, and Mayor Mike Morales of La Verne will present their views on (1) How to maintain a democracy, (2) Is the individual responsible for corruption in government? and (3) Is the phrase "you can't fight city hall" well-grounded? Lisa Anne Haage of Montclair High School and Claudia Pote of Royal Oaks High School, along with two other youths, will respond to the mayors' comments.

The meeting is open to the public. A hospitality hour will follow in which guests may meet the mayors informally.

Chamber donates $2,000 for rescue

Two checks totaling $2,000 have been presented to Capt. Ed Noone, West End Sheriff's Office, by representatives of the Cucamonga District Chamber of Commerce for the purchase of additional equipment.

One check for $1,500, was made out to the sheriff department's search and rescue teams and the second $500 donation was earmarked for the department's mounted posse. Both organizations depend primarily on donations for their equipment, according to Capt. Noone.

Frank Penn, president of the Cucamonga chamber, said the money was the result of a community effort, gathered by the chamber from various service clubs in the area.

The search and rescue teams, said Noone, are a relatively recent addition to the substation. They were founded in October, 1971, and are the only such teams in the county consisting of regular deputies rather than volunteer reserve deputies.

The West End office, he continued, has two six-man teams, giving them 24 hour availability. In addition, both teams are "on call" at all times.

Even though the teams consist of regular deputies, they are all volunteers and their extra training time is considered "unpaid overtime" by the department, according to Noone.

Noone explained the department had utilized the usual volunteer reserve teams until 1970. Often, he said, searches could extend for several days and it was unfair to volunteers with other jobs.

Noone said there have been several other donations in the past from many various agencies and clubs, including the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors and various industries in the area.

This donation, he said, is the largest ever received with the exception of a 4-wheel drive truck equipped for rescue.

The mounted posse received $500. It was started in 1966, one year after the local substation was built, according to Noone.

The posse, he said, is used primarily for various searches, including rescues and drug sweeps. They're also used periodically for crowd control. "They're just like a four-footed patrol car," said Noone.

All members of the posse are volunteer reserves, responsible for their own equipment, horses, trailers and uniforms.

'Woman of Achievement'

Clubwomen honor Dorothy H. Gibson

Dorothy H. Gibson of Upland was honored recently by the Upland Business and Professional Women's Club when she was named the "Woman of Achievement" for 1974.

The selection was announced during a recent club meeting and was given in honor of National Business Women's Week.

Mrs. Gibson was unable to accept the award herself as she is recovering from an automobile accident, so her husband, Dr. Thomas A. Gibson and their daughter accepted the award on Mrs. Gibson's behalf.

The honored woman is a graduate of the University of Arizona and a graduate of Woodbury College, Los Angeles. She also did post graduate work at USC.

Always interested in her community, Mrs. Gibson currently is a board member of the San Bernardino County American Cancer Society, is the West End director of volunteers for the Cancer Society and is regional director of the California School Boards Association.

She was appointed last February to the Commission for Teacher Preparation and Licensing by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Mrs. Gibson is a member of the San Antonio Community Hospital Women's Auxiliary, and has been a member of the Upland School District Board of Trustees since July of 1961. She is a member of the San Bernardino County School Board, and a co-chairman of the annual conference of California School Boards' Association.

Dr. and Mrs. Gibson have two daughters and one granddaughter.

During the business meeting of the club, it was announced that the San Orco District Fall Conference, California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. will be held Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 2 and 3, at Palm Springs.

Margaret Thrasher and Jeanette Wechselberger were elected as delegates and will attend with Eleanor Smith, the president's appointee. Alternates named were Ruby Rowland and Georgia Olson.

During the conference, Julia K. Aari of Pomona, recently-elected national treasurer, will be the keynote speaker.

Her topic will be "Power of Membership."

Uplander is adviser to handicapped

Poor balance does not equal poor judgment — or a poor worker.

Everett Collins has helped prove this point at the Employment Development Department, 1000 W. Fourth St., Ontario, where he is a volunteer job counselor.

Through his persistence and a cheerful personality, Collins in the last three years has found jobs for approximately 160 handicapped persons. For 17 years Collins has had multiple sclerosis, which causes him to have poor balance.

The Employment Development Office lists Collins as a prime example of the untapped talent that is not being used in paying jobs. This is an especially significant message in October — state

"Employ The Handicapped Month."

Collins, his wife, Gale, and their sons, Bill and Warren, live in Upland. Another son, Bill, is in the U.S. Navy.

Chaffey smog plan praised, used as model

A smog emergency plan prepared by the Chaffey Union High School District has been praised by the Air Pollution Control District as being "comprehensive" and "an excellent planning effort."

The APCD is using the Chaffey contingency plan as a model that is being sent to all high-school districts in the six-county South Coast Basin, APCD official Charles A. O'Malley announced.

Retiring butcher recalls ground beef for a dime

After 47 years in the retail meat business in Upland, Ernie Olson has hung up his white apron.

Kinda. The meat cutter who sold his interest to his son and partner, Roger, still gets behind the counter occasionally. But, for all intents and purposes, Ernie has retired.

Only 20 years old when he opened his first shop at 281 Second Ave., Upland, Ernie had to have his mother co-sign so he could purchase meat.

He worked five years for the market before buying out the meat business.

And, it was a "whistle" from a Upland market manager named Charlie French that got Ernie into the business. When he was a lad of 12 — just out of grade school — Ernie was bicycling to his weed-hoeing job when French hailed him with a whistle. "He asked me if I'd like a job delivering meat for him on my bicycle."

The 67-year-old man says today "I often wonder what I'd have done if he hadn't whistled at me that morning!"

So, throughout high school Ernie worked after school and on weekends in Upland markets. He graduated in 1923 from Chaffey High School and became a fulltime meat cutter.

In 1927, Olson's Market

opened in a grocery store in Upland.

To illustrate how merchandising has changed, the long-time Uplander remembers when there were seven meat markets in downtown Upland in the 30s. "Today there are none." But, in those days there were no supermarkets either — just independents.

When Olson took over the market on Second Avenue, the place had just been equipped with mechanical refrigeration — "prior to that it was ice."

Back in 1933 — depression days — when a good wage was 22 cents an hour, ground beef went for a dime a pound and pork spare ribs, 11 cents per pound.

One of Ernie's long-time friends presented him a copy of an ad from the Upland News dated Friday, Feb. 10, 1933, which has been mounted on a wood plaque and which today hangs in Olson's Meats, 923 W. Foothill Blvd., Upland.

Picnic hams were advertised at 53 cents each, and a blended veal and pork loaf "ready for the oven" went for two pounds for 35 cents.

For customers who purchased three packages of Limburger, American, Pimento or Roquefort cheese at the regular price of 20 cents a package (25 cents for Roquefort), a hand polished crystal service set was given free.

His telephone number then was 57 — and deliveries were free.

Olson recalls that in 1934, when the First United Methodist Church of Upland was built, carpenters earned $3 a day.

In 1936, the Upland butcher was elected to the Upland City Council, and his shop moved in 1937 to 110 E. Ninth St., Upland. He was a councilman when the first city hall was constructed.

He recalls that during the depression, many Upland residents couldn't pay their water bills so the city allowed them to work out their bills by "setting out a 20 acre lemon grove." The city sold the grove and used the proceeds to help pay for its city hall, recently vacated and now used by the Upland Police Department.

"It was one way the city had of helping pay their bills," Ernie said.

He called his market's slogan: "Olson's Market, the home of quality meats."

In 1960, Olson moved his market into the Safeway store at 60 E. Ninth St., which is there no longer.

In 1970, he and his son opened their own meat market on Foothill Boulevard. Roger worked for and with his dad more than 20 years and now has taken the reigns for the business.

Prices are higher, but so are wages.

Although retired, Ernie Olson is still an active member of the Upland Lion's Club and a member of the Upland First Methodist Church.

Veteran's Day shifted back to November date

This year for the first time in many years, Veterans Day will be observed Nov. 11 rather than Oct. 28, the fourth Monday in October.

In 1973, the state legislature reverted the holiday commemorating all men and women who have served in the armed forces back to its original Nov. 11 date.

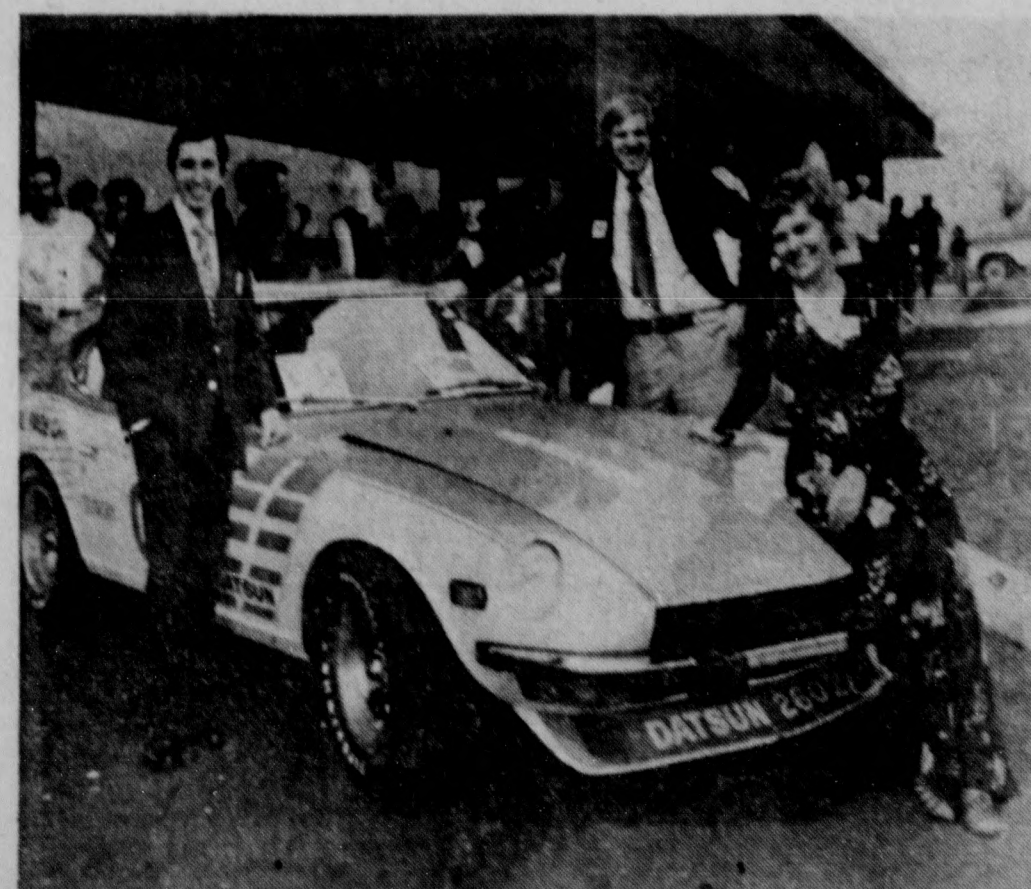

This year, Nov. 11 is a Monday.

When the date falls on a weekend, the Monday following will be declared the holiday, closing banks, some city halls and all federal, state and county offices.

It was in 1919 that President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed Nov. 11 as Armistice Day to remind Americans of the tragedies of war.

In 1964, Congress changed the name to Veterans Day to honor all United States veterans.

GRAND OPENING - Of the new First National Bank of Upland on Eighth St. and Mountain Ave. was held Saturday. Race car driver Sam Posey, center, was there to meet area residents. Pictured are Jim

Uplander earns Eagle Scout rank

Anthony J. Palmisano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Palmisano, 272 Dayton St., Upland, was recently awarded the rank of Eagle Scout by the Boy Scouts of America, an honor which usually comes to less than two per cent of all scouts.

Palmisano was given his Eagle charge by Howard Russell, Serrano District scout executive, and was presented with the Eagle award by his former scoutmaster, Mill Fughey.

A member of Troop 608, Palmisano's Eagle project was teaching first aid for "hurry cases" to elementary and junior high school students. With his helpers, he gave demonstrations to approximately 20 classes. He is the 15th member of his troop to receive the award, giving the troop a rating of 10 per cent of its members as Eagles, five times the national average.

Drug panel fund request turned down

By striking from the agenda a request for $23,550 from the West End Drug Abuse Coordinating Council, the Upland City Council has, in effect, denied the fund request.

WEDAC had asked the city for the money and the council had postponed action from its Oct. 7 meeting. Tuesday, council members asked that it be removed from the agenda.

City Manager Lee Travers told the council the money might be spent another way.

Councilman Hal Bailin noted that unless the city had some means of coordinating the use of funds donated to such organizations, he will continue "to be opposing these things."

Agreeing with Bailin was Mrs. Ina Petokas, councilwoman, who suggested the city needs an organization to report on the programs "we've already contributed to."

The committee is made up of five honor students — George Marshall, John Rickey, Mike Bement, Mike Mohr, and Robert Thorne. Its purpose is to counsel students about honors classes and to send out surveys to students concerning future classes and schedules. The committee will report its findings to Bill Vermilya, honors program counselor.

The committee meets on Fridays in Room 6 during second lunch to answer students' questions.

New color film aired by First Brethren

"A Thief In The Night," a new color film, will be shown at The First Brethren Church of La Verne, corner of White Ave. and 6th St., Wednesday, Oct. 30 at 8 p.m. Admission to the film, produced by Mark IV Pictures, Inc., is free.

"A Thief In The Night" is a motion picture about Bible prophecy. It shows what can happen when Jesus Christ returns. This exciting story centers around Patty, an average girl caught up in living for the present, with little concern about the future. What happens when this thinking finally catches up with her provides an action packed, unforgettable drama.

The fast moving pace includes a young man confronted by a deadly Asian cobra, a young girl's daring escape from jail, and a take-over by "The Imperium" that regards all, who are not properly identified, as enemies of the system.

"A Thief In The Night" was given the "Best Film of the Year" award by the National Evangelical Film Foundation of Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. The lead actress, Miss Patty Dunning, was given the "Outstanding Female Actress" award at the same time.

Evening service features local American Indian

The Rev. Dwight Enberg will deliver the 10:45 a.m. message Sunday at the Fellowship Church of the Brethren, 2282 Third St., La Verne.

The 6:30 p.m. evening service will feature Mrs. Susie Frazier of Pilgrim Place in Claremont. The native American Indian will give a book report on "Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee."

Mrs. Frazier was born into the Sac and Fox tribe at Shawnee Town in Indian Territory (now Oklahoma). She attended government Indian schools in Oklahoma and Haskell Institute in Lawrence, Kan.

When she was graduated from Earlham College, she was faced with making a choice of two careers. One was as soloist with Thurlow Lileurance, lecturer and interpreter of American Indian music. She chose the other, with the national board of the YWCA.

She traveled widely, visiting on reservations and in Indian schools and was in demand as a speaker in colleges across the country. During that period she was sent as Indian delegate to an international conference of the Society of Friends in London.

After four years with the YWCA she was married to Philip Frazier.

Mrs. Frazier now lives at Pilgrim Place in Claremont.

Womens fellowship plans gathering

Women's Aglow Fellowship of the Christian Chapel in Walnut will hold a brunch at the Pomona NATIONAL Golf Course Clubhouse on Colima Rd. in Walnut Tuesday, Nov. 12, from 10 a.m. to noon. Reservations must be in no later than Nov. 8. Call Nancy Zunde at 714-595-1128; Linda Murakami at 213-965-5385; or Cecile Smith at 714-595-9974.

Guest speaker for the November Brunch is Marge Evans from Orange, who radiates the love and warmth of Jesus Christ to those around her. Marge at one time pursued a successful modeling career and has led an interesting and varied life. The most exciting adventure of all began when she turned her life over to the Lordship of Jesus Christ and experienced the healing and restoring power of His love.

Mrs. Evans lives with her husband, Paul, a project engineer at Autonetics, and has five grown children plus three lovely grandchildren. She and her husband share a teaching ministry in churches, homes, conferences, and wherever there are people. They also share their testimony in juvenile hall and other jails on a regular basis.

Mrs. Evans has reportedly not always experienced a smooth-running, fulfilled life. Her earlier years ran the gamut of a broken home, divorce, and attempted suicide. As she shares her experiences, it is said to be difficult to realize that this poised and joy-filled woman once plunged to far into heartache and despair. In all she says and does, she gives God the glory, knowing that every good and perfect gift comes from above.

Y to offer program on system

High school students who like to learn by doing, and who are interested in politics, should attend the YMCA's Youth and Government orientation meeting to be held Monday at 8 p.m. at the West End YMCA, 215 W. C St.

Patrick Flack, YMCA program director, and Carrie McDermitt, youth and government committee chairman, will give complete information on how local teenagers may participate in the Y's extensive citizenship training program.

McDermitt said the program is an opportunity for a high school student to discover the inner workings of state government.

Flack added, "Our program lets the kids explore all aspects of government, from the election of state officers, to the writing and passage of bills, to press coverage of the entire legislative process."

A delegation of high school students will be chosen to represent the local Y in the program and these students will assume various roles in state government at the mock legislative session.

The group will also research subjects it feels are important enough to warrant debate by the youth legislature, and then, after thorough study, draft a bill to be presented during the four-day gathering in Sacramento.

Two West End youngsters join student council

Two West End students at Western Christian High School in Glendora have captured seats on the student council.

Kent Stern of Ontario was named co-editor of the school newspaper, and Penny Beck of Montclair was elected freshman class president.

The entire student council is scheduled to attend a high school leadership conference in December at the Forest Home Conference Center. The conference is sponsored by the California Association of Christian Schools.

Health News...

FACIAL PAIN CAN MEAN NERVOUSNESS, IRRITABILITY

By DR. W. P. HELZER, D.C.

Recently a case was being discussed that involved a young woman who complained of a slight pain over one eye that had persisted for three weeks.

After thoroughly examining the patient, her chiropractor commenced treatment and asked her to return the following day. When she came in for her second appointment, she announced "I don't know what you did but I find that I am completely relaxed now... not jittery and nervous... and the pain is gone!"

I would like to explain such a dramatic change in temperament and attitude. And for that matter, what this person's problem was.

The trouble was a low grade irritation of what — because it has three branches — is known as the trigeminal nerve. It's the nerve that is involved in what is generally known as facial neuritis.

The Doctor, on examination, may find abnormally tender points on all three branches of the trigeminal nerve, two of which the patient can be unaware of until they are located. On the third, on the branch which is connected to the nerve above the eye, the irritation can be great enough to make the patient aware of the pain.

As for the rapid change from pain and anguish, I might say that whenever someone takes action on trouble as soon as it's noticed, there's always a good chance for dramatic results from the treatment.

If one waits until they have acute facial neuritis the treatment, of course, would not produce such startling results.

It is not unusual for a person to wait for "little hurts" to go away.

Unfortunately, an individual typically figures isolated pain points are not too important. They take a pain pill and forget about it. Frankly, these little irritations are going to return and return until a serious problem develops.

The point is that nerve irritations are caused.

That's the key word. They don't just happen. And the only avenue to correction is to find that cause. And until it's found, there will be nervous irritability.

Take notice of nature's DEW system. That's Distant Early Warning. It can save a lifetime of misery or long, drawn-out treatment and care.

Alta Loma artist's work on display

The watercolors, serigraphs, and etchings of artist Patricia Georgiana Norman are on display in the Lobby Gallery of Pomona First Federal, 399 N. Gary, Pomona, through the month of October. A member of the Pomona Valley and Chaffey Community Art Associations, Mrs. Norman has exhibited her artwork locally at open and juried shows for many years. Mrs. Norman specializes in silk-screen prints and stencils.

New instruction coordinators

Three coordinators have been added to the Chaffey College office of instruction. The new coordinators are Elizabeth A. Stark, Joan G. Roloff and Leonard L. Martyns. Mrs. Stark is cooperative work experience coordinator. In the past year, she held a similar post at Upland High School. She was for nine years an instructor in homemaking, English and journalism in the Chaffey Union High School District. As learning center coordinator, Mrs. Roloff brings to Chaffey a seven-year record as assistant professor in communications at William Rainey Harper College (Palatine, Ill.). For more than two years of her time there, she was coordinator of developmental programs. Martyns is coordinator community education. In the past seven years, he has been associated with consulting firms providing direction personnel management school districts, government agencies and businesses. For two years, he was assistant to the vice president at Pomona College.

Council approves smog plan

An air pollution emergency episode plan has been approved for Upland by the city council. City Manager Lee Travers is plan coordinator and City Engineer Fred Blanchard is alternate coordinator in case of city smog alerts. Exempt from episodes are emergency city vehicles such as firefighting, police, refuse collection and sewer maintenance equipment. Water line maintenance equipment is also exempt. Briefing of employees will start with department heads responsible for notifying division heads who will pass on the information to crews. When a first, second or third stage alert occurs, the city will rely on the county to notify schools and the general public. Within the city itself, Upland police and fire officials will notify city management who in turn relay the information to operating departments. During a first stage episode, all employees will be notified; vehicle-miles traveled by city vehicles will be reduced 33 per cent and car pools will be encouraged. Fleet vehicle miles traveled will be reduced 33 per cent through cutbacks on the number of vehicles dispatched from the city yard and by direction to police to reduce patrols. When a second stage episode is forecast, similar precautions will be followed with more emphasis on a reduction of transportation. City offices will close to the public and business may be rescheduled to eliminate travel and stop strenuous activity. A second stage episode not forecast will again involve reduction in fleet miles and a possible rescheduling of city business. During a second stage episode, all recreational areas under city jurisdiction will be closed, including buildings at Magnolia and Memorial Park and all recreation classes. Maximum possible reduction is called for in case of a third stage episode. When forecast, city offices will close except for emergency service and business rescheduled. A third stage alert, not forecast, calls for similar action as in a second unforecast episode.

TAKING SHAPE - This LaVerne College student demonstrates some of the activities that high school student and their counselors will observe during the college's second annual counselor's day on Wednesday, Oct. 30.

County planning estimate

Area population projection cut

San Bernardino County Planning Department has scaled its estimate of the county's population downward from an estimate made a year ago. The new estimate is 730,037 compared to a July 1973 estimate that the total was 736,636.

The revision has come amidst an obvious slowing down of population growth throughout the U. S.

Ron Matyas, a member of the planning department's urban information systems office, said his office has adopted recent nationwide findings in cutting back by about one tenth of one per cent on the number of persons per household that it used in most areas in calculating its latest estimates.

The result was to reduce the planning department estimates of the populations of every city in the county except Barstow and Victorville.

The reduced estimates included those for Ontario, down from 68,299 to 67,584, and Upland, down from 39,417 to 38,828. Taking these reductions into account, the estimated population increases for West End cities since the 1970 census are Ontario, 64,118 to 67,584; Upland, 32,551 to 38,828; Montclair, 22,546 to 23,577, and Chino, 20,411 to 23,381.

Matyas said the differences between the county's population estimates and those of other agencies have caused changes in three basic calculation factors.

Parking lot will be done soon

Montclair High School football stadium will have an improved parking lot as soon as construction can be completed.

The Montclair City Council approved improvements Monday night after putting off a decision on the parking lot Oct. 7.

Curbs, gutters, sidewalks and a block wall on two sides of the city's property are being added to the stadium parking lot between Ramona Avenue and Camulos Street.

At the council's last meeting, action was not taken because two of the council members wanted to see the results of game time conditions and see if the improvements were necessary.

When the city purchased the property, there was a firm commitment made that the improvements would be built.

Monday the planners approved curb, gutter and sidewalk improvements on Ramona Avenue, expected to cost about $3,200.

The money will be taken from the city's contingency fund, set aside for items not budgeted in the 1974-75 program of service.

A $13,000 block wall will also be constructed on the south and west sides of the lot. The council decided to eliminate the wall on the north side until the land to the north is developed. It is currently open fields.

Because there are no existing structures or facilities north of the property, councilmen felt there would be no problems with lighting or trespassing on the north.

BIKE TRAILS - Recently constructed from Foothill Blvd. to San Dimas Canyon Park in San Dimas were dedicated last week. Attending the ceremony were, from

Too expensive to just move

Remodeling can save money

By DOROTHEA BROOKS
NEW YORK (UPI) — If you can't buy the house you want, improve the one you have.

That seems to be the solution for many homeowners who need or want to upgrade their living quarters but just can't swing it with today's soaring housing costs and tight mortgage market.

The American Bankers Association (ABA), noting a remodeling boom is underway as it becomes more difficult to finance the purchase of a new home, says funds for home improvement still are available.

"Since your home is your collateral, you may borrow up to 90 per cent of your equity in the house," Rex J. Morthland, ABA president, said.

"Interest varies from bank to bank—from about 12 to 15 per cent—so it pays to shop for the lowest rate. Repayment periods extend from 5 to 10 years."

Generally bank financing is less expensive than working with a home improvement firm, Morthland said. A passbook loan, a loan guaranteed by other collateral, borrowing on insurance all are possibilities.

Morthland suggested several ways to undertake a remodeling project. You can go to a home improvement firm that will handle the job from beginning to end, including the planning, financing, construction and finishing. You can arrange your own financing, work out your own plans or have a professional do it for you, and let contracts for as much or as little of the work as you choose.

While few families will want to handle a major remodeling project on a do-it-yourself basis, many will find they can cut costs by doing some of the work themselves. Just be sure, Morthland warns, that you consider carefully your abilities and the time you are willing to invest in do-it-yourself. And make certain all improvements conform to local building codes, especially electrical and plumbing work. Non-critical jobs such as preparation and clean-up, finishing chores such as painting and papering, installing moldings and panelling, laying floor tile are more time consuming than challenging, he said, but still represent a substantial reduction in labor costs when done by the homeowner.

Morthland stressed the need for care in choosing an established contractor whose ability and reputation are well known. "The home improvement field," he said, "attracts its share of fast-buck operators who pressure customers into agreeing to more than they need and who fail to live up to their promises. Recourse through the courts is a headache, expensive and not always successful."

In choosing a contractor, look around, inquire of friends who have had work done. Check local banks, chamber of commerce, better business bureau. "You may," Morthland said, "without feeling unduly suspicious, ask a contractor for references and check on work he has done."

Remodeling projects can include giving a wall a new look. The wall paneling is meadow pine, simulated woodgrain design in vinyl veneer particleboard. The durable panels are also an economical way of finishing a room.

"YOU'VE GOT AN HOUR COMING" - Kathy Thiere, Miss Greater Los Angeles Press Club, reminds everyone to turn back their clocks one hour at 2 a.m., Sunday, Oct. 27. Congress approved the return to standard time from October, 1974 to February, 1975.

Two have filed for board seat

Two candidates have filed papers so far for the vacancy on the Mt. San Antonio College board of trustees.

The candidates are Charles Hall, 46 of Diamond Bar, a former educator and representative of a manufacturer of educational products, and Ron Boran, 27, of West Covina, a newscaster on the college radio station and part-time counselor.

Mrs. Nancy Bennett, whose appointment to the post by the rest of the trustees was voided last month by petitions for the special election, has not yet filed her papers.

Deadline for filing is Oct. 30. The election is set for Jan. 7 to fill the vacancy left by the death of Lance D. Smith two months ago.

St. Joseph's School is collecting labels

A special collection drive is underway at St. Joseph's School, 955 N. Campus Ave., Upland, aimed at obtaining necessary audio-visual and athletic equipment for students.

"Labels for education" is the program title which is sponsored by the Campbell Soup Company.

The goal of the school is to collect enough Campbell soup labels between now and Dec. 31 to earn equipment. Any Campbell's soup or bean label is acceptable in the collection. Persons who would like to contribute to the collection may deposit their labels at Vons Market in Upland, Alpha Beta Market in Alta Loma, Sunrise Market in Cucamonga or at St. Joseph's School.

Careers symposium slated at college

Chaffey College's office of community education will present a symposium on career opportunities for women Oct. 29 at the Upland Women's Club. Keynote speaker at the 4-9 p.m. session will be Mrs. Ganell Baker, associate director for continuing education, Claremont University Center. Mrs. Baker will speak on the program theme, "Avenues for Women."

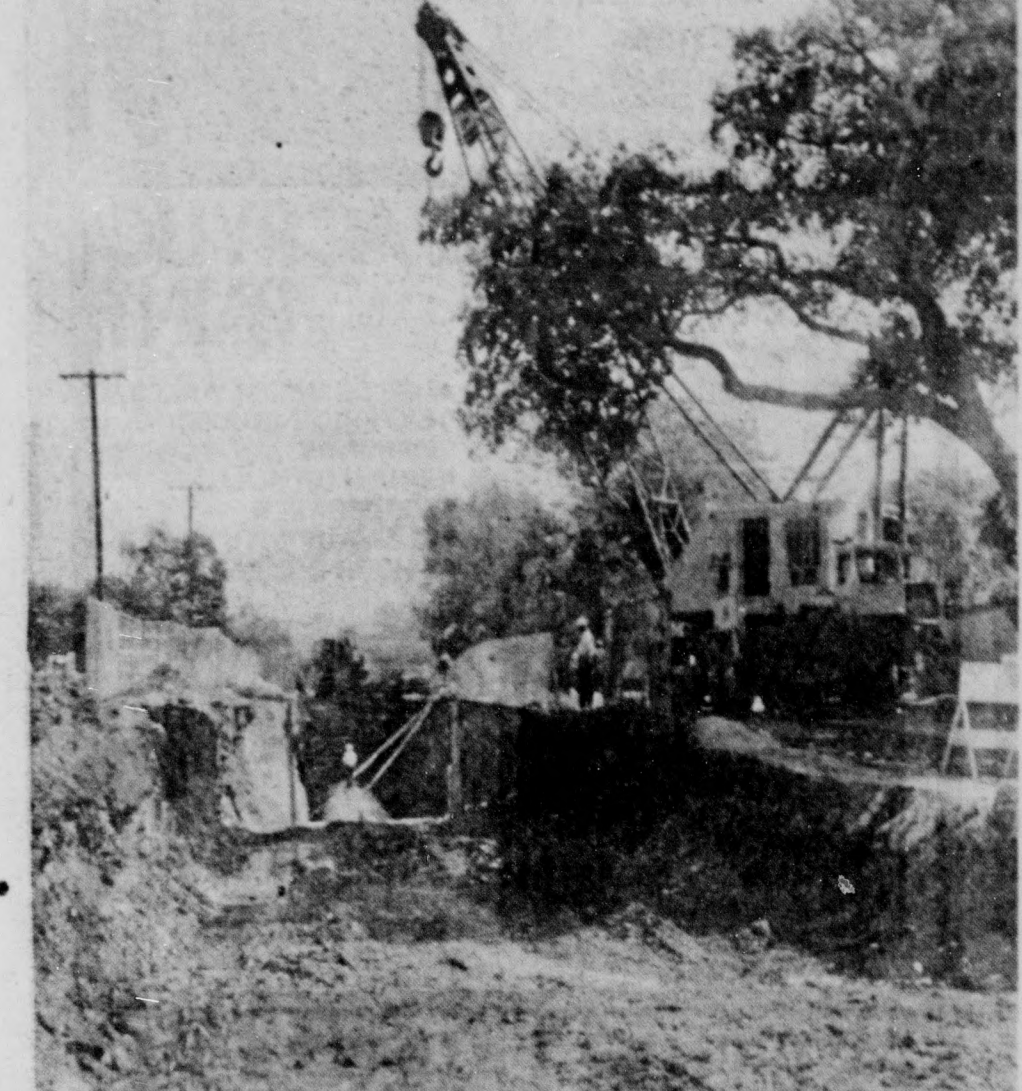

Other speakers will be

Patricia Lanier, M.D., Ontario; Mrs. Gerri Hughes, Upland realtor; Miss Carol Tronstad, loan officer of an Upland bank office, and Mrs. Harriet Hanson, jury coordinator of San Bernardino County superior courts. Attendance fee will be $3.75, covering both registration and dinner. Information on reservations is available by calling the college at 987-1737 or 822-4484, extension, 234.

The Poster Child for OPARC (Ontario-Pomona Association for Retarded Citizens), Claudia Malmquist, gives her brother, John, a push in her play car. Claudia, the 4½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Malmquist of Claremont, was introduced to members and guests of the OPARC Auxiliary during the annual auxiliary barbecue. She attends OPARC's School in Montclair. During the barbecue, plans for the 1975

"Les Bal des Enfants Chers" were discussed. The ball is an annual fund-raising affair the auxiliary holds to gain money for the OPARC School and OPARC's Diversified Industries. Mrs. Robert Floyd is chairman of this year's ball which will be held March 5. (Daily Report photo by Craig Swanson)

PIPELINE CONSTRUCTION - Along San Dimas Canyon Rd. has turned the street into a large trench with one-way traffic. Contractors say the local part of the project will be completed by Nov. 8. The line is part of the Metropolitan Water District's Rialto Reach from San Dimas to Claremont, and will eventually carry water from northern to southern California. (Photo by Peggy Olsen)

AL class officers

Alta Loma High School recently elected freshman class officers. Tom Eichenberg was elected treasurer and Luane Martin was elected secretary. A run-off election had to be held the next week for vice-president and president. James Deason and Mark Foletta were running for vice-president in this election, with Kathy McCarron and Chris Della Penna running for president. The election resulted in Mark Foletta being elected vice-president and Chris Della Penna winning the presidency. Foletta and Della Penna are both on Alta Loma's frosh-soph water polo team. All four freshman class officers come from Alta Loma Junior High. The new officers are still getting used to Alta Loma High and their new jobs, but they are making plans for their term of office.

What's Going on at Griswold's

OPEN HOUSE in the Bakeries (both Claremont and Redlands) is NOV. 11, (Monday, Veterans' Day) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Save the date and bring the kids. FREE SAMPLES of all the goodies, and lots of ideas for Christmas eating and gift giving. Really good COFFEE is very hard to find. At COOK'S NOOK we grind absolutely fresh-roasted coffee to your order. A man from Oklahoma came in for coffee and found it so great, he took 40 lb. back with him on the plane. Then he tried to buy the same quality in Oklahoma, and had to write and ask us to ship him another supply, since he couldn't find coffee as good in his area. Griswold's OKTOBERFEST was so successful that we promise you another one next year. It was certainly fun to see many thousands of people having fun together - dancing for the young and old was the highlight of the day - little kids, old folks, teen-agers - Save next year's dates - the 2nd and 3rd week-ends in October.
